Sea Breeze

COSTA VERDE DISTRICT, CGCI, PACIFIC REGION, NGC

Volume 60, Issue No. 4

March April 2018

FROM OUR PRESIDENTS

Gloria Balcom and Linda Rosenfeld

Riviera Garden Club has definitely been 'in motion' since our last issue of Sea Breeze. Our fashion show at Talbots was a great success! Many of us were inspired by stylist Fabian and the fashionable RGC models to supplement our personal wardrobes. We earned $680 for future Civic Outreach projects.

At our March meeting hostesses Eunice Hargrove, Alberta Brice and Claudeene Lyon treated us to a beautiful and tasty array of food. Certified Arborist Louie Gamino provided new insights and valuable advice on the trees that make our neighborhoods so livable.

April was ramped into high gear with a successful Garden Sale on the 7th. Lucky for us Charlie Sappington never says never; and her front yard was a perfect backdrop for the terrific cross-section of plants and garden items supplied by our members. The Garden Sale was successful because everyone worked hard. We grossed $2,208. THANK YOU for your effort!

On April 22, RGC was proud to sponsor the Wonderland Tea Party for the South Coast Botanic Garden Kids Club. The action started in the newly-opened Rose Garden, then continued throughout a series of Adventure Stations. What can be better than seeing so many children having fun enjoying nature!

We rounded out April with an excursion to the magnificent Huntington Library & Gardens where we all enjoyed docent led walking tours of the Chinese Garden. Later members explored the Huntington on their own. Marie Hoffman, THANK YOU for coordinating this trip!

The RGC fun isn't over yet! There is one more regular airport meeting on May 22 with dynamic speaker Lili Sanger. With the RGC year looming to an end, our Mad Hatter luncheon/installation will be June 5 at the Cheesecake Factory. Sign up with Pam Barrett-Hill. Remember to wear your hat decorated with materials or flowers that are either living or were once living! See the Calendar of Events below for more info.

USING A COMPOST TUMBLER

By Marilyn Rubin

I have been composting for more than 30 years. Recently a rat persisted in chewing holes through my black plastic compost bins. After much research and various attempts to resolve the problem, I decided to switch to a rodent-proof compost tumbler, the Jora JK 270. I AM THRILLED WITH MY NEW COMPOST TUMBLER! Although my new compost tumbler was expensive, I LOVE its design and I LOVE how easy it is to load and unload; and to rotate. No more pitch fork! No more waiting months for rich compost to amend my vegetable garden soil! My new Jora tumbler has 2 separate chambers with large openings. I can add organic materials to one side of the compartment, while allowing the leaves and vegetable scraps on the other side to mature. In my kitchen I have a sink-top cutting board with a large hole in it. Underneath that hole I keep a gallon bucket to collect compostable scraps. NO SMELL! Because my new compost tumbler is fully insulated and completely sealed, it heats up amazingly fast to create compost in record time. The brochure says two weeks NOT the months it takes in a traditional bin.

Why should people compost? When you reuse and recycle your own organic waste, landfill sites do not fill up as quickly. Composting is a natural process, so you do not use any fossil fuels or other forms of energy to create it. Furthermore, once the compost is ready, you can use it to enhance your soil and fertilize your ornamental and edible plants.

Dual chambers with 2 latched openings. Easy to fill, rotate and unload. Thick Insulation keeps it hot. Rodent-proof! Fast production of compost! Come to Marilyn's yard to see this compost tumbler! No, I am not getting a commission! I JUST LOVE IT!

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

By Gloria Balcom

Our Riviera Garden Club "Gifting Elves" continue to give back to our community.

During April, Linda and Gloria delivered a RGC check for $1,500 to Victor Elem. School principal Mike Baker. Three remarkable teachers Tim Magnus, April Pages and Jeff Jennewein will be using this money to establish a new student-cultivated garden. These dynamic teachers are inspiring their students to excel in gardening and ecology. As a result, Victor Elementary has just been named a finalist in the Grades of Green's Free Lunch Challenge for significantly reducing lunch time trash by converting it into compost.

New member, Cynthia Lundin worked with Gloria and Linda to re-plant our PTN (Pediatric Therapy Network) sensory garden with a wonderful array of herbs and edibles.

To recap our earlier donations for this year: South Coast Botanic Garden $2,000; Seed to Plate $1,000; El Retiro Youth Library $500; TreePeople $500; and $1000 scholarships to each of the three students featured in the page 5 article.

RGC SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

Jillian Glickman, a senior at North High Torrance, has applied to attend a University of California this fall. She will major in environmental science. Jillian writes, “After receiving my four-year degree, I plan on working for a large company to promote environmental sustainability.” Jillian has volunteered many hours to reestablishing a habitat in Palos Verdes to restore the population of the endangered Palos Verdes Blue butterfly. Jillian explained, “It has been instilled within me to always ensure that my ideals correspond with my actions, and my volunteer work allows me to do just that.”

Cole Rossi, a South High senior, plans to attend a four-year University IF he receives enough federal and scholarship aid. Cole writes, “I plan on attending a four-year university, majoring in environmental studies with an emphasis on policy analysis. I plan on going to law school and become an environmental lawyer.” Cole has volunteered at Torrance Memorial Hospital and Habitat for Humanity as well as being the chairperson for his high school canned food drive. Cole says, “I found that I am most happy when helping others.”

Zoe Meffan, an El Camino College student, grew up in Rough and Ready, California. This very tiny (less than 1000 residents) historic gold mining town is near Grass Valley, about 62 miles from Sacramento. Zoe left Rough and Ready to attend El Camino College in 2015. ECC is the beginning of her educational goals to graduate with a microbiology degree. Zoe works full-time at Armstrong Garden Center to pay for college and living expenses. She writes, “I want to focus my major toward studying and populating plants in their native environment ... as well as the animal species they co-exist with.” After graduation Zoe wants to go into conservation to help protect the native plant and animal species in the world.
