

Riviera Garden Club

COSTA VERDE DISTRICT, CGCI, PACIFIC REGION, NGC

Summer 2021 Volume 63 issue 5

From Our President, Ellyn Meikle

Finally, we can meet outdoors with social distancing as we did before the pandemic, though masks are requested for unvaccinated people and recommended for everyone in indoor public places like indoor meetings.

On September 28th, we will have our first meeting of the year at the South Coast Botanical Garden outside by the koi pond. We will not have our usual potluck, nor will we have this event catered. If you choose you can bring your own food and beverage. Since this event is outdoors we can sit socially distant (6 seats instead of 8 seat per table), and you can choose whether you want to wear a mask or not.

We had a "planning" board meeting on July 20th. Laurie has secured the Zamperini Airport meeting space for this year, and she is working on speakers while Marie is organizing hopeful excursions. Zamperini Airport requires all of us to sign a 4-page waiver before our meetings, and all will be required to wear a mask and sit socially distant inside. The Los Angeles County Health Officer Order requires masking for everyone while indoors, regardless of vaccination status.

The beginning of October I will email you the Airport's required waiver, and you can bring it with you at our October meeting.

We have a new event coming Sept/Oct, and I will send out a flyer separate from this publication.

It has been a sad month losing Tecki, a long-time member of Riviera Garden Club. Charlie's daughter is gravely ill, and Charlie appreciates all the good wishes and prayers. Sheila is recovering from shoulder surgery, and Pat H. is recovering from her stroke, while Marge McKarns is recovering from a heart attack. All appreciate your well wishes. I hope you all are well.

Stay cool, hydrated, and give a phone call or email to someone in our club to keep in touch, even if it's just for a 'hello'.

I look forward to seeing you all September 28th!

Per the County of Los Angeles:

Masks are required for unvaccinated people and recommended for everyone in indoor public places like:

- Retail
- Restaurants
- Theaters
- Family entertainment centers
- Meetings
- State and local government offices that serve the public

Though it is a free country, I hope you are able to practice Covid-19 guidelines and stay safe.

See you in September.

Ellyn Meikle

The summer growing season is here, and insects are busy doing their jobs that are essential to producing nature's bounty. Honeybees, wild bees, and native bees pollinate the fruits and vegetables we eat. However, existing side by side with these beneficial insects are destructive pests. As a seeming solution to the problem, scientists developed insecticides that eliminated not only the destructive pests but the beneficial ones as well.

One of the most alarming products is a group of insecticides known as Neonicotinoids, or "Neonics." Used primarily as a seed coating treatment, a neonic weakens a bee's immune system making it vulnerable to infections and parasites. Implicated in Colony Collapse Disorder, it also acts as a nerve poison causing disorientation and damaging the bee's homing ability, which it needs to find its way back to the hive.

Sales of neonics are responsible for millions of dollars in revenue to major chemical companies. Most of Europe has banned the outdoor use of neonics. Despite its demonstrated toxicity, neonics continue to be sold in the United States. The Environmental Protection Agency continues to review its effects on bees and will announce its findings in October 2021.

In the meantime, avoidance is the best tool we have. Many major garden supply stores such as Home Depot, Lowes and Walmart no longer sell neonic treated plants. When purchasing supplies, not only plants, but potting soil, fertilizer, and amendments, look for organic products. Ask for environmentally safe pest control products. If you are not sure, ask if the product contains neonics. Consumer pressure may be the answer to eliminating the use of harmful insecticides and encouraging and protecting our pollinators.
